Reconciling 1619 and 1776 in American History: The Debate over the Soul of a Nation

Thursday, February 25, 6:30 p.m. PST

Anne C. Bailey is a Professor of History at the State University of New York at Binghamton. She is also the Director of the university's Harriet Tubman Center for Freedom and Equity.

Her newest book, "The Weeping Time: Memory and the Largest Slave Auction in American History," examines the 1859 auction at which over 400 men, women, and children were sold by the Butler Plantation estates. Bailey is committed to a concept of "living history" in which events of the past are connected to current and contemporary issues. She has been researching and writing about the public memory of slavery and freedom for much of her writing and academic career.
