

LITERATURE TALK:

The Decameron by Giovanni Boccaccio

facilitated by Professor Brittany Asaro

MONDAY
14 MARCH 2022
6:30-8:00 PM

●
SHILEY
SPECIAL EVENTS
SUITE

What does a 700-year-old book set during the deadliest pandemic recorded in human history have to say about the Covid-19 pandemic and the social upheavals it has brought about? Why does The Decameron resonate so powerfully during our own current moment in time?

Join Professor Brittany Asaro in a discussion about the parallels of two worlds hundreds of years apart brought together during tragedy by the human need to retreat through storytelling.

REGISTER ONLINE TO SAVE YOUR SEAT!

San Diego Central Library

@ Joan A Irwin Jacobs Common

330 Park Blvd, 92101 • 619-236-5800

facebook.com/SDPLHumanities

SCAN ME!

