

2019 August Wilson Theatre Festival

Saturday, March 30, 2019
12 - 6 pm
Shiley Special Events Suite,
9th Floor

Join us for an all-day August Wilson theatre festival, presented in anticipation of San Diego becoming an official Regional City in the 2020 National August Wilson Monologue Competition. The AWMC is a free arts education program, a celebration of the words of Pulitzer Prize winning playwright August Wilson, inspiring high school students to find and express themselves through theatre. Please register: tinyurl.com/yyxd5a3h. Refreshments and social hour.

Festival Schedule:

- ◇ 12:00 pm: Student Monologue Project and announcement of San Diego's participation in the 2020 National August Wilson Monologue Competition.
- ◇ 1:30 pm: Panel: Women on August Wilson's Stage: A Legacy for Today.
- ◇ 4:00 pm: How I Learned What I Learned by August Wilson, a staged reading performed by Antonio TJ Johnson and directed by Delicia Turner Sonnenberg.

San Diego Central Library
@ Joan A Irwin Jacobs Common
330 Park Blvd, 92101 • 619-236-5800
facebook.com/sandiegocentrallibrary

