

Let There Be Light

A Documentary by John Huston

Saturday • May 19th
• 2pm •
Oak Park Branch Library

Presented in cooperation with the National Archives and the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, Let There Be Light is considered to be one of the most important wartime documentaries ever made. Directed by John Huston (The Maltese Falcon, The African Queen) as part of his service as an officer in the Army Signal Corps, Let There Be Light depicts the treatment of "psychoneurotics" (now known as post-traumatic stress disorder), through hypnosis, drugs, and psychotherapy.

Saturday
May 19th • 2pm
Older kids - Adult

Oak Park Branch Library

2802 54th Street • 619.527.3406

