

Image Courtesy of Marvel Studios

Viva Wakanda

Saturday, December 8, 2018 • 4 pm • Neil Morgan Auditorium

Have you wanted to talk about the once-in-a-lifetime blockbuster film Black Panther in a group setting and explore the movie's themes, artistic merits, or socio-cultural impact? Join five San Diego scholars, thinkers and writers of diverse expertise steeped in the Black radical and esthetic traditions for a community discussion of Black Panther and the mythical forever free African nation state of Wakanda. The scholars will have their say and so will you. Registration encouraged on the library calendar.

Presenters:

- Adisa A. Alkebulan, Professor, Africana Studies, SDSU
- Boatema Boateng, Associate Professor, Communications, UCSD
- Zeinabu Irene Davis, Professor, Communications, UCSD
- LaWana Richmond, Lecturer, Education / African American Studies, UCSD
- A.C. Workman, Freelance Writer, Family Health Advocate, SDC BIH Program

San Diego Central Library
@ Joan A Irwin Jacobs Common
330 Park Blvd, 92101 • 619-236-5800

